THE MONDAY REPORT

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

JUNIOR COLLEGE DIVISION 202 SKYLAND BLVD. TUSCALOOSA, AL 35406

January 20, 1986

SHELTON OFFERS NEW SENIOR PROGRAM

Senior Studies, a senior adult scholarship program at Shelton State community college, has been announced by Shelton President, Leo Sumner. The new program will allow tuition free programs for people over 60 years of age and will be available at the Junior College and Technical Divisions of the college.

Louis Skipper, full time faculty member at the Junior College, has been director of the Senior Studies program.

At the Junior College there will be three facets to the program. The first facet will open up the regular program of the college to senior citizens. Shelton is already working with FOCUS and PARA in an effort to decide how to best use the resources of the college in serving theis segment of the population.

The third area will take the program to business and industry. This will enable local business and industry to use the educational resources of the local community collge to transition employees from the work force to retirement.

The free tuition will apply to all credit courses. the only requirements are that the student be at least 60 years of age and have a high school diploma or GED.

To obtain more information on the program call 759-1541 or come by the office of the Dean of Students at the Junior Collge or call 556-1143 at the Technical Division.

STRESS MANAGEMENT SEMINAR

The Special Services project at Shelton State is sponsoring a Stress Management Seminar on Tuesday, January 21, from 10:15 a.m. till 12 noon in the auditorium. Troy Bishop from Indian Rivers Facility will be the workshop leader. All students, faculty and staff are invited to attend.

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Bessie German, coordinator/counselor of Special Services participated in a city-wide birthday program for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., on Wednesday, January 15.

MUSIC NOTES

The Early Music Consort of Tuscaloosa will perform on Monday, January 20, at 12:30 p.m. in the music room of the Junior College as part of the Monday Concert Series.

The Early Music consort of Tuscaloosa is a chamber music group which specializes in music from the Middle Ages through the High Baroque. The group consists of Michael Bowman, Gary Smoke, and Shelton State math instructor David Cantrell.

The program will feature compositions by John Rowland, George F. Hondel, Johann D. Heinichen and Johann Quantz. The public is invited to attend.

ALFRO AMERICAN CULTURAL ASSOCIATION

The Alfro American Association will meet on January 23, at 12:30 p.m. please make plans to attend. A party is planned at Phase I on Saturday, February 15, beginning at 9:30 p.m.

"CHRISTOPHER P.H. MURPHY (1869-1939): A Retrospective." A 50-watercolor exhibit," is currently showing in the library of the Junior College. The exhibit is open to the public during regular library hours: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Friday, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

MARGARET SEARCY TO SPEAK AT SHELTON STATE

Well known Tuscaloosa author of children's book Margaret Searcy will lead off the Brown Bag Speakers Series as the first speaker. Mrs. Searcy, who is also an anthropology instructor at the University of Alabama, will talk on "When Opportunity Knocks, Open the Door," on Thursday, January 23, from 12 noon - 1 p.m. in room 87 of the Junior College.

The Brown Bag Speakers Series is free and open to the public. Coffee and refreshments will be served beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Searcy's award winning children's book highligts her career as a practicing-teaching anthropologist at the University and reflect her dedication to interpreting the South's multiethnic populations.

She is the author of numerous publications but is best known for children's books. Her fact and fantasy series for the younger reader adapts Indian myths and legends to the problems of the multiethnic classroom. Various parts of her work have been televised throughout the nation, and Alabamians have seen her books featured in several series by both Alabama Public Television and Alabama Educational Television.